Half Century of Progress

From 1908 to 1958 - - fifty years of progress, fifty years of growth. The first four-year high school had nine students and one teacher; today's school has 625 students and 31 teachers. The four room school that housed the first graduating class was built in 1898 and is shown on the opposite page.

In 1916 three rooms were added at the rear, and as the school population increased, an adjoining gymnasium, science room, and study hall were built in 1928. A grade school building was placed in front of the original structure in 1939, and before long that too was overflowing.

The industrial arts building, extending to the right of the first four rooms, was occupied in 1956 and the building program reached its crescendo last fall when the high school moved into the unbelievably beautiful building with its spacious rooms and up-to-the-minute equipment.

The gratitude and appreciation of the student body are so great, and the opportunities for expressing them so few, that the seniors wish this book to stand as a tribute to the people in this community who have made possible these fifty years of progress.

FACULTY AND CLASSES

As the farmer sows his seed
In the fallow land . . .
So does the teacher
Sow his seed
In the eager mind
Of the high school student.

Since time began
There have been Educators . . .
And those to be Educated.

Since 1908
Dyer's educators
Have increased
From one to thirty-one . . .
But the eternal
Truths they have taught
Are unchanging . . .
And illimitable.

Administrators Are Bulwark of School

MR. DON MORIARTY is in his fourth year as trustee of St. John Township, and has been the driving force behind the movement to provide high school boys and girls with adequate educational facilities. Without his unflagging zeal, and selfless devotion to the cause in which he believes, this splendid building would not be standing here today. The high school students, faculty, and patrons will never be able to repay him for his contribution to school and community.

As dean of girls, senior English teacher, advisor of the yearbook, and sponsor of the Senior Drama Club as well as National Honor Society, MRS. DOROTHY AINSLEY has to plan her day carefully; but she always has time to help a girl with her problems or encourage a student to attend college.

The clink of cash in the lower hall each day signifies that MRS. KAY TRAPP, school treasurer, is on her way to the bank. She effortlessly handles all school monies as well as 37 extra-curricular accounts, and has yet to make her first mistake.

St. John Township is ably represented by the above members of the Advisory Board. Not only have they fulfilled their function of advising the township trustee on school matters, but they have backed the drive for a new high school building. From left to right they are NICHOLAS KUHN, LOUIS CINKO, and BERNIE JOSTES.

As a loyal principal for two years and a supervising principal of all St. John Township Schools for the following two years, MR. GEORGE BIBICH has inspired the students and faculty of our school to work harder to improve the standards of the high school. In the fall of 1955 an excited class of freshmen enrolled in a small two story building with crowded conditions and inadequate facilities. Now as this class nears graduation they are proud to have witnessed the accomplishment of a new high school. The class of '59 salutes Mr. Bibich, a man who set his goals and reached them.

Whether she's looking for a missing possession in the Lost and Found box, adding a student's name to the detention sheet, or answering the telephone, MRS. LELA HOWELL has a genial smile for everyone. In addition to being the secretary-receptionist, Mrs. Howell supervises the student office assistants.

When MR. FRED JONES came to Dyer Central in 1956 as assistant principal, the school gained a dynamic administrator. He has now completed his second year as high school principal, and has initiated many progressive measures such as 70 minute periods, dress reform, intra-mural athletic program, etc.

Paul Hayes and Lou Iaconetti may be regarded as among the best dressed men on the faculty, but they also seem to be interested in what the women will be wearing next season. Obviously it's true that women dress to please men.

Masculine leather and wood furniture make the men's lounge an inviting place, and in this denish atmosphere Kermit Kerns, Fred Jones, Albert Lawson, and George Bibich find a great deal to talk about between classes, at noon, or after school.

Hard Work and Fun Too!

In physics lab class Margaret Nichols, Darrell Ferguson, and Rich Rokosz operate an intricate trip balance as an experiment in the diffusion of irons.

The biology room at one time or another is home to all kinds of animal life. In the picture at the left, Mr. Vereb gives a lesson in handling live animals to Jerry Beal, Carl Skaggs, Irvan Thornberry, and Carol Hilbrich.

Lab periods don't come around often enough for the chemistry students as they learn to run distillations and titrations, perform analysis of unknown substances, and study the basic structure of the atom. Amazed or amused, Mr. Vereb apprehensively views an experiment being performed by Joseph Zimmer, Dolores Ulandowski, and Tom Johnson.

Latin may have been easy for the Romans, but it's hard for the second year class at Dyer. Dexter Graves, Marty Grove, and Tom Herman are writing conjugations on the board to the apparent approval of their teacher, Mrs. Hoffman.

Customs and traditions of Spain enliven the study of Spanish grammar. One of the fun projects of the first year Spanish class each Christmas is the making of a pinta. Here Sandi Greenwell, Sigmund Toth, and Diane Stephen model authentic Spanish costumes.

Girls in the first year sewing class study textiles, sewing techniques, and laundering methods. In the foreground of this picture Shirley Graham and Bonnie Nietzel are making aprons, while in the background Mrs. Graeber is assisting Brooke Worley and Betty Schmidt with pattern laying.

Pins Pans and Paints

Nimble Fingers and Agile Minds

With the aid of modern office machinery life is much simpler for the business secretary of today. In Miss Husted's class in business calculation, students learn to operate various types of adding machines (ten-key and full key board), calculators, comptometers, check writers, duplicators, and mineoscopes.

Ready-set-go! Eager students await the signal from Mr. Jones to begin one of the many tests that will further their typing skills.

Studying, Examining, Practicing, and Proving

The globes may be different sizes, but it's the same old world. For his world history class Mr. Eberly strives to emphasize the importance of global relations and world affairs. One of his classes watches Pat Weeks, Paulette Cooper, and Judy Darnell examining what would seem to represent the growth of the universe.

Many students enjoy learning about their government, and particularly in an election year. Here Barbara Brace explains to the class how the voters select their representatives.

In U.S. History Gwen Carpenter, Jim Berg, and Ronnie Reichelt combine text book and map study.

Mr. Petroff's freshman English class uses index cards in vocabulary study. Marge Postma is showing the class the words she has studied and classified.

Developmental reading is a part of the senior English program, and the SRA reading accelerators are effectively used to increase reading speed.

Clear, logical thinking is a by-product of the plane geometry course, although occasionally students wish that Mr. Pythagoras had never been heard of. Standing at the chalk board, Ronald Reichelt, Marsha Yates, and Harry Kilander are working out proof of a problem given to them by Mr. Lawson.

The Power of the Printed Page

Don't be a pumpkin head! Read! The students of Dyer Central High School have the greatest opportunities ever offered to further their education. In two years our library has grown tremendously. We have acquired 1000 additional volumes, as well as many newspapers and magazines. The seating capacity has increased from 10 to 100. Pictured are proud students taking full advantage of our new library.

Mechanical drawing, taught by Mr. Linley, is one of the most productive classes offered at Dyer Central this year. The students work on an amazing variety of projects such as engineering drafting, free hand drawing, lettering, and architectural drawing.

Manual Skills Are Important

Hammers, nails, and handages are all essential in the wood shop. The boys in advanced shop work on projects ranging from executive desks to coffee tables. In the picture at the left instructor Nelson (standing) watches Dave Vaughn, Stephen Cher, Bill Grooms, and Kenneth Rudisel as they measure and plane.

The "big three" of the industrial arts department are Mr. Linley of mechanical drawing, Mr. Nelson of wood shop, and Mr. Milby of metal shop.

Safety! Safety! Safety! is stressed by Mr. Milby in his machine and metal shop. This course embraces four phases; first, safety; second, layout and blueprint reading; third, benchwork; fourth, machine operation. Operating the numerous machines from left to right are Nick Budak, Richard Stromquist, Chuck Schwader, Mr. Milby, and Ronald Redar.

New Gym Gets Workout

For the first time in Dyer's school history there is a full time instructor for boys' physical education classes. The organized program, under the direction of Mr. Hayes, includes calisthenics, wrestling, tumbling, bar work, and group games such as basketball, volley ball, and touch ball.

Changing the position of the picture below makes it appear as if the phys ed boys are scaling an excessively high wall.

As the yearbook went to press, the girls' physical education program was just being organized, and no pictures were available.

Cherished Awards

In her junior year BEATRICE COLLARD was selected as one of the school's representatives to the United Nations, and as a senior she delivered the salutatory address at Commencement. Her other activities are listed in the senior album section.

BILL WEAVERLING finished a distinguished high school career by delivering the valedictory address at Commencement. In his junior year he was selected as one of the school's two representatives to visit the United Nations, and in his senior year he won the Bausch and Lomb Science Award.

JUDITH GILLIAM (left) was named Dyer Central's Good Citizen, and was honored by receiving the DAR Good Citizen award. PAT THIERY became Dyer Central's Homemaker of Tomorrow by making the highest score in the Betty Crocker competitive examination.

CHARLES SCHWADER (left) and TOM FREEMAN were elected to the Calumet All-Conference team. Charles was leading scorer in the conference and Tom was chosen as Dyer Central's most valuable player.

RON GRAHAM, junior, is the school's delegate to Boys' State, the mythical state set up every summer on the campus of Indiana University. It is attended by boys from many Indiana high schools.

MARTHA GROVE, junior, is the school's delegate to Girls' State, the imaginary state organized each summer by Indiana University. It is usually attended by girls from more than 700 Indiana high schools.

Senior Journalism Classes Struggle . .

News! News! News! Duties of these Cometeers are varied, but they all have one goal-to write an interesting Comet. In the picture at the right, Sharon Bryant, Phyllis Caldwell, and Ray McMullen are examining the current issue of the Comet while Margie Wilson, Eileen Miller, Bill Cox, Cecilia Smith, and Bill Mathews are grouped around the table.

Members of the Comet staff will agree that it is a hard task to publish the monthly paper. News has to be gathered, written up, headlined, and checked by the co-editors. In the picture above Carol Dumbksy, Barbara Dumbksy, Lance Clarke, Paul Hoffman, Richard Light, Jim Stephen, and Pat Mote are fascinated by the issue they have just produced.

..to Meet Deadlines

Cropping pictures, pasting up layout sheets, and writing copy these are activities of the yearbook staff. Tom Austgen, Bee Collard, Shirley Balcerak, Leonard Yuknis, Hal Hilbrich, Tom Freeman, Bob Schutz, and Pat Thierry make up the group above.

Linda Yates and Robbin Burnison pool their ideas for sparkling copy. A successful yearbook must have interesting and factual copy plus eye catching layouts.

Proof reading and final checking always rest with the co-editors and sponsor. Their jobs don't stop in the publication room however, for one can often find them working after school, wrapping and sending off finished pages to the publisher. Judy Gilliam and Jerry Schaefer join Mrs. Ainsley in examining the '58 Echo.

All Classes Share Homecoming . .

Top honors go to Mr. Petroff's homeroom.

After the parade of floats, a large crowd gathered around the blazing bonfire for songs and more cheers.

The crowd and cheerleaders screamed and yelled as Dyer went over for another touchdown at the 1958 Homecoming Game. Final score was Dyer, 13; Gary Wirt, 12.

Queen Brenda Smith and King Tom Miller reigned over the Homecoming Dance. Representing the senior class, Brenda and Tom made a very handsome pair.

King and Queen candidates are nominated from each class about two weeks prior to the Homecoming Dance. During these two weeks money cans are passed out and the campaign gets underway. Money donated to these cans is collected and counted by the lettermen at the end of the campaign, with each penny counted as one vote. In the picture at the right, Al Yelich seems to be quite interested in the amount of money that seniors Tom Freeman, Joe Zimmer, and Bill Cox have collected.

Even at a dance boys will take time out to stuff themselves. At the left Carl Skaggs, Harry Kilander, and Johnny Render seem to find the food more interesting than the girls.

Receiving jackets for excellence in sports entails hard work and good sportsmanship. October 31, 1958, was a big day in these seniors' high school career, for they were rewarded for their athletic prowess. From left to right they are Mr. Glenn Eberly, Jerry Schaefer, Kenny Rudisel, Bill Johanson, Norman Houston, Tom

Cheerleaders Heighten School Spirit.

At the Griffith game the cheerleaders went all out to raise the spirit of the Pep Block. Urging the crowd to yell are Eileen Miller, Pat Thiery, Peggy Stephen, and Bee Collard.

Good Music Induces Marching

Another project undertaken by Douglas Jordan was sponsoring and training the majorettes. The majorettes entertained the football and basketball crowds throughout the year by performing at pre-game flag drills and between halves. STANDING Jolynn Miklik, Judy Chandler, Mary Long, Beverly Fleschner, Joyce Dado,

When Mr. Douglas Jordan first came to Dyer Central, the music department was very weak. For two years Mr. Jordan has worked with the band and has built up the music department. His efforts were rewarded when Dyer's first marching band was presented on September 19, 1958. From that time on, the band has appeared at every home game. Mr. Jordan also created a pep band for the basketball games. Pictured at the left are Mr. Jordan and Mary Gaskill, kneeling in front of the band.

Pep and Love of Sports Go Together

The PEP CLUB, along with the cheerleaders and team, was awarded second place for school spirit in the 1958 IHSAA sectional. Discussing ways of raising funds for the club are members of the executive board: Sharon Bryant, treas.; Shirley Balcerak, sec'y.; Cecilia Smith, vice-pres.; Judy Mecklenburg, pres.; and Miss Arbuckle, sponsor.

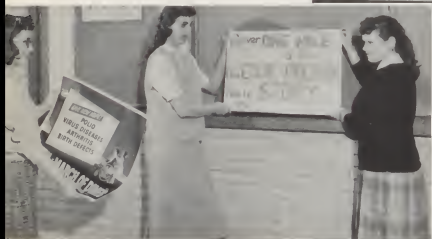

Shown below are Larry Hammond, Bill Schiffbauer, Richard Thiel, and Sig Toth, preparing to go on one of the Sportsman Club's many excursions.

National Honor Society and Student Government Strengthen Character

Each home room in the high school sends one representative to the STUDENT COUNCIL. Sophomore, junior, and senior members are elected in the spring and freshman members in the fall. Members of this student government are: STANDING Linda Eriks, Carol Clemenz, Sig Toth, Janice Czech, Mr. Linley, Terri Miller, Mr. Fred Jones, Judy Gilliam, Jerry Halfman, Evie Redar, and Donna Springer. SEATED are Gail Ciaglia, Mary Lou Hinton, vice-president; Jerry Patchman, president; Bonnie Bucha, secretary; and Peggy Stephen, treasurer.

Choosing cheerleaders, sponsoring one activity a month, and keeping bulletin boards up to date are a few of the Student Council's many functions. In the picture at the left, Donna Springer, Gail Ciaglia and Mary Lou Hinton put up posters to inform students of things to come.

Tutoring failing freshmen, keeping in touch with alumni attending college, and helping with work in the office are some of the activities of the National Honor Society. Below Jerry Schaefer, Robbin Burnison, Lorin Clemenz, and Pat Thiery help grade freshman aptitude tests.

To be a member of the NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY one must have a B+ or higher scholastic average, possess qualities of leadership, and be of strong character. Charter members of the Society are STANDING Martha Bamber, Bee Collard, and Janet Keilman. SEATED Pat Thiery, Mrs. Ainsley, Judy Gilliam, Jerry Schaefer, Shirley Balcerak, Eleanor Hoernig, Robbin Burnison, Lorin Clemenz, Bill Weaverling, and Mr. Jones. Not pictured are newly elected members: Sharon Bryant, Barbara Brace, Marty Grove, Jerry Hilbrich, Bill VanDerWoude, Diane Wood, Suzette Brace, and Pat Mote.

Officers of the Drama Club gather to plan the activities of the club for the coming year. One of the projects of the club is the senior play. Here Ray McMullen, president, Eleanor Hoernig, secretary, Marge Fogarty, treasurer, Barbara Dumbksy, reporter, and Lance Clarke, vice-president, look over possible scripts.

Drama Club and Echo Staff Entertain Students

WHY THE CHIMES RANG was presented by the Drama club on December 19, 1958. At the left is a scene from the play, showing Marty Grove as the old lady, Len Yuknis as Uncle Bertel, Dave Maschger as the priest, Diane Wood as Steen, and Ray McMullen as Holger.

LORNA LOON or KINAPPED IN A POTATO SACK was presented by the Echo staff to kick off the subscription campaign. At the right are Pat Thiery as Mrs. Lumox, Bee Collard as Imogine Lumox, Len Yuknis as Bob Daire, Robbin Burnison as Lorna Loon Lumox, and Joe Zimmer as Frank Goodnix.

Club Officers Plan Activities with Sponsors

Members and Officers of the FUTURE TEACHERS of AMERICA gather to discuss their plans for future training. Some of the members add to the discussion by relating a few of the problems they meet as cadet teachers. STANDING Ken Bohling, reporter, Pat Thiery, Tom Freeman, Judy Gilliam, Mrs. Crisco, sponsor, and Pat Cavan, president. SEATED are Phyllis Caldwell, vice-president, Bee Collard, secretary, and Gail Ciaglia, treasurer.

Science Club and Future Teachers Learn by Doing

JANET KEILMAN...SENIOR

Queen candidates were nominated by the Sunshine Society. The dance was held in the gym of the high school, and the couples attending the dance voted by secret ballot for their

Sunshine Society Sponsors Winter Wonderland Formal

Dyer Central Chapter of the Sunshine Society is one of 200 active chapters. Their activities include an evening initiation of new members and a reception for the mothers, a Winter Wonderland Formal, gifts for orphans, and a banquet to celebrate their thirteenth birthday. Pictured at the left are the officers and some of the board members. STANDING are Cora Williams, treasurer, Martha Bamber, vice-president, Miss Husted, sponsor, and Evelyn Redar, recording secretary. SEATED are Lyn Hilbrich, Dorothy Jaryszak, Sandi Greenwell, Martha Grove, president, Gwen Carpenter, Mary Sue Gerlach, corresponding secretary, Marge Postma, and Carol Clemenz.

Twilight Time Is Theme of 1958 Prom

Russ Carlyle provided his enchanting music for the 1958 Prom. His band will always be remembered for playing "Twilight Time", the theme of the prom. Songstress Dorothy Ferguson added a touch of glamor.

Departing time does not seem sad for Lorin Clemenz (left) and Leonard Yuknis (right) as they help Judy Gilliam and Marty Grove on with their coats. Many of the high school students topped the evening off by attending a night club or restaurant in the area.

King and Queen of the prom, Charles Johnson and Kay Bly, seem camera shy as they dance alone. Selection of the king and queen is the climax of every prom night. They are chosen by the band leader, and must be students of the high school.

Weeks of training and practice go into building a good and efficient tumbling team. With the aid of the newly purchased parallel bars and side horse, Coach Hayes prepares his team for its first performance. Marvin Jones, Don McBee, Al Wilsher, Sig Toth, Ronny Graham, Tom Patterson and Ray McMullen act as spotters while Larry Hammond, Bill Crowley and Dale Hinkel perform on the bars.

New Gym Offers Varied Opportunities

Students pack into the gym every noon hour to watch the exciting intramural basketball games. Here Mr. Mygrants is demonstrating proper free throw technique to home room captains Dale Hinkel, Frank Keilman, Jerry Schaefer, Don McBee, and Dennis Hardy.

Every Saturday afternoon people of the community crowd into the new gym for a whirl on roller skates. Enjoying this extra feature of the school gym are Jerry Halfman, Barbara Dumbsky, Bill Mathews, Larry Hammond, and Janice Czech.

The Old

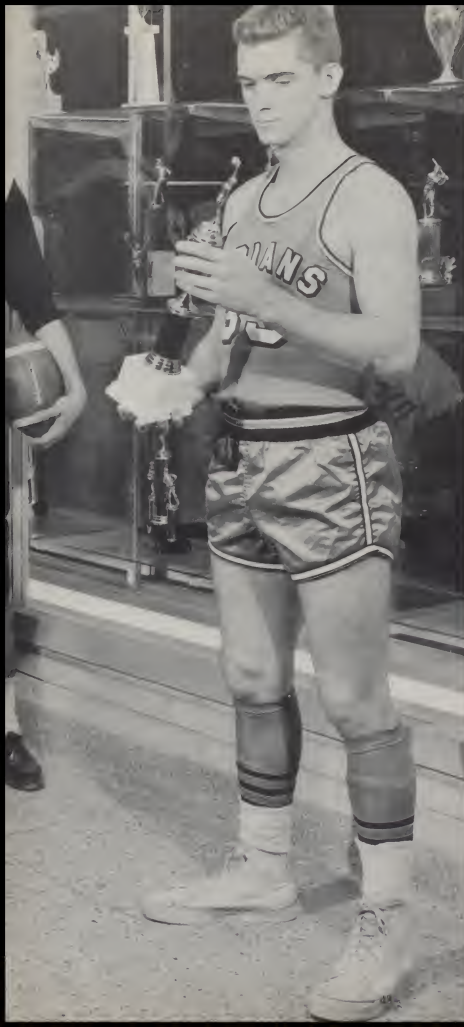

.and the New

Fifty years ago Dver Central had two horse drawn buses to bring fewer than 24 students to school. Above is pictured one of the eight-legged, 2 horse-power surries. Now, fifty years later, the horsepower has jumped from 2 to 200, and the number of students carried on our modern buses exceeds 400.

The Indians opened the 1958 football season with a 20-2 win over Highland. The running of Bill Johanson was too much for the visitors. On September 5, the Indians lost to Portage in the final minute 25-19, although the pass combination of Freeman to Schwader almost pulled the game out of the fire. The Indians were defeated 14-0 by Merrillville on the following Friday. Gary Edison nipped Dyer 32-27 as the Indians lost another one in the final two minutes on September 15. Dyer traveled to Morocco on September 26 and were beaten 34-13.

It was Homecoming for Dyer Central on October 3, and the inspired Indians downed Gary Wirt 13-12. The running of Schwader and the passing of Freeman proved to be decisive. Dyer ran into Griffith on October 10 to be soundly beaten 41-12. Bill Crowley returned the opening kickoff 65 yards as the Indians went on to defeat Crete 20-6 on October 17. On October 22 the Indians beat East Gary 14-7 on a late pass play. Schwader scored two touchdowns against Lowell, as the Indians won their last game 14-12. Schwader was the leading scorer in the conference with 63 points.

The Indians finished the season with a 5-5 record and were fifth in the conference. The boys and coaches are to be congratulated on their fine showing.

Wise Men Guide Our Steps

Assistant coaches Buren Hooper and Gene Wolanin contributed a great deal to the football program. Their thorough knowledge of the game, with its strategies and techniques, earned them the respect of the team.

Gurney Davidson has completed his second year as head football coach. Before coming to Dyer he spent ten years teaching and coaching in North Carolina and southern Indiana, with time out for three and a half years as radio man on a U.S. Navy destroyer. He is also assistant basketball coach.

Managers Carl Skaggs, Dave Doeing, and Mike Krager take time out to pose for the camera. These boys play an important part in keeping the boys in good physical condition.

The Big "D" Rambles On

Inspired Indians surge through the Gary Wirt line to block an attempted punt.

Kilander sees an opening and goes for yardage against Wirt.

Schwader, Dyer's Mr. Touchdown, goes in for one of his specials against East Gary.

The young Indians of Dyer Central closed out the 1958 football campaign with a 0-4-3 record. This record is misleading due to the fact that nineteen freshmen participated on the junior varsity team. The Indians lost their first game to Portage 22-6, inexperience proving to be the deciding factor. On the following Monday the Indians held Merrillville to a 6-6 tie. The next two games were lost to Gary Edison and Gary Wirt by scores of 6-0 and 19-0, respectively.

Still seeking their first victory, the Indians were held to a 13-13 tie by River Forest, and the following week were beaten by East Gary 32-0. In the last game of the year the host Indians were tied 6-6 by Lowell. Looking back over the season, we do not think of the record, but of the experience and poise these boys gained from participating in football.

Although Gene Wolanin's major assignment is teaching math and science in the 8th grade, he thoroughly enjoys his work as assistant football coach. He is a graduate of East Chicago Roosevelt High School and received his B.S. from Millikan University.

The Indians of Dyer Central closed out the regular season with an 8-11 record. They finished fourth in the Calumet Conference with a 3-4 record.

Dyer Central had a very young club with only two seniors graduating. As the season progressed, vast improvements could be noted as the boys gained experience and confidence.

Jerry Patchman, a 6'5" senior, led the team in scoring with 289 points for a 15.2 average.

As the book goes to press, the Indians are preparing for their sectional encounter with Bishop Noll.

Coach Davidson, aside from being Dyer's coach, also is assistant basketball coach. As coach of the B-team, he teaches the future basketball stars of Dyer the art of playing basketball. The B-team has a record of 12-7 which is one of the best B-team records in recent Dyer history. Mr. Davidson received his masters degree from Indiana University and teaches classes in health and physical science.

Dyer Central High School expanded its ever growing athletic program by making cross country a major sport the past school year. Being the first year that cross country has been a major sport in Dyer's athletic program, it proved to be highly successful and rewarding to the boys and the prestige of the school.

Dyer finished fourth in the Calumet Conference meet at Cressmore Country Club. Al Evans was sixth out of 54 runners and Ken Rudisel finished eleventh. One week later at Valparaiso, the Indians took tenth place in a 28 team field in the sectional run.

As the yearbook goes to press, Mr. Eberly is preparing for his fourth year as baseball coach at Dyer Central. He is looking forward to a successful season as ten lettermen are returning to bolster the squad. Aside from coaching baseball, Mr. Eberly teaches social studies. He received his B.S. degree from Ball State.

Dyer's youthful track team is looking forward to this season. Last season, track was revived at Dyer Central by Coaches Tennant and Wolanin. The Indians finished fifth in the Calumet reserve meet and were beaten by the Griffith reserves in a dual meet 56 to 52. It is hoped that Dyer Central will continue to improve in their newest sport under the guiding hands of Coaches Tennant and Wolanin.

Dyer Seeks Championship Again

Hanson, Frank Stark, team captain, and coach Louis Iaconetti.

Louis Iaconetti is preparing for his third season as head golf coach at Dyer Central. With the near-by Lake Hills Country Club golf course, for practicing, the team has repeatedly won golfing honors. Mr. Iaconetti teaches high school speech and drama.

Last season the golf team had a 21-4 record. Besides winning the Calumet Conference for the third straight year, the Indians went to the state finals and finished twelfth in the state. This season they hope to improve on last year's record, as the four top players are returning.

As the yearbook goes to press, the 1959 schedule has not been completed, but as in previous years it will include such schools as Michigan City, Lafayette Jefferson, La-Porte, South Bend Central, and many others.

Have multiplied in number

From two

To one hundred forty-two.

But now or fifty years ago . . .

Inside they're just the same.

Graduation . . .

Ties to be broken . . .

A new world to be discovered . . .

Life's beckoning

To be followed.

What paths

Will be taken in the future?

Will joy outdistance

Sorrow?

Will dreams be fulfilled?

And plans become reality?

With winged faith

We shall walk onward . . .

And onward . . .

Until each takes his place

In the infinite

Seniors in Action— Legal and Illegal

UNDER CLASSMEN

And juniors . . .

These are the underclassmen.

In 1908 there were but seven.

By 1958

That number had grown

To four hundred eighty-five.

But then . . .

And now . . .

Youth has been the season

Of hope . . .

And energy . . .

And aspiration.

As the sands of time . . .

Flow on and on . . .

May all undergraduates

Everywhere

Act wisely

And keep faith.

their future

The young people you see in these pictures are all on their way to successful careers in one of America's basic industries . . . steel. They decided (as we hope you will decide) to let Inland Steel Company help them plan their future.

Some are gaining knowledge and experience in special trades to become journeyman machinists, carpenters or electricians . . . some are concentrating on certain phases of steelmaking by working in the open hearth shops, the cold rolling mills or the galvanizing lines. Still others are working in laboratories building a sound foundation for a future in steel research.

Inland offers the high school graduate an excellent opportunity to further his education. Employees may participate in a variety of on-the-job training programs, or they can continue their formal education by registering for evening courses offered by local Purdue and Indiana University Extension Centers.

Plan now to investigate the unlimited opportunities for you in steel . . . with the midwest's own steel company . . . INLAND STEEL.

Principal Wins Leadership Award

Principal George Bibich

When Croft Publications announced that an award was to be given to the school administrator selected as the Principal of the Year, the St. John Township teachers nominated their supervising principal, MR. GEORGE BIBICH. Although not winning the top award, Mr. Bibich was one of the four principals for whom a special School Leadership Award was created. All four were honored at the February meeting of Secondary School Principals in Philadelphia, and the editor-in-chief of Croft Publications came to Dyer in March to present him with the official scroll. Faculty and students join in saluting him.

Acknowledgments

This book was not created by the Echo staff alone---it is the result of unfailing cooperation from Dorothy Ainsley who ably sponsored it, George Craven who represented Artmaster Yearbooks, the faculty who released students from classes, Root Studio who did the photography, and the advertisers whose financial support made publication possible.

the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Foundation 1999). The prevalence of mental health problems has increased in all age groups, but the increase has been most marked in the young (Mental Health Foundation 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the mental health needs of young people (Mental Health Foundation 1999). The Department of Health (1999) has set out a strategy for mental health care for young people, which includes a commitment to improve the mental health of young people, to reduce the incidence of mental health problems, and to ensure that young people with mental health problems receive the best possible care.

The Department of Health (1999) has also set out a number of key principles for the care of young people with mental health problems. These include: the need to ensure that young people with mental health problems receive the best possible care; the need to ensure that young people with mental health problems are treated as individuals; and the need to ensure that young people with mental health problems are given the opportunity to participate in decisions about their care.

The Department of Health (1999) has also set out a number of key objectives for the care of young people with mental health problems. These include: to reduce the incidence of mental health problems; to ensure that young people with mental health problems receive the best possible care; and to ensure that young people with mental health problems are treated as individuals.

The Department of Health (1999) has also set out a number of key strategies for the care of young people with mental health problems. These include: to ensure that young people with mental health problems receive the best possible care; to ensure that young people with mental health problems are treated as individuals; and to ensure that young people with mental health problems are given the opportunity to participate in decisions about their care.

The Department of Health (1999) has also set out a number of key measures for the care of young people with mental health problems. These include: to ensure that young people with mental health problems receive the best possible care; to ensure that young people with mental health problems are treated as individuals; and to ensure that young people with mental health problems are given the opportunity to participate in decisions about their care.

The Department of Health (1999) has also set out a number of key outcomes for the care of young people with mental health problems. These include: to ensure that young people with mental health problems receive the best possible care; to ensure that young people with mental health problems are treated as individuals; and to ensure that young people with mental health problems are given the opportunity to participate in decisions about their care.

The Department of Health (1999) has also set out a number of key indicators for the care of young people with mental health problems. These include: to ensure that young people with mental health problems receive the best possible care; to ensure that young people with mental health problems are treated as individuals; and to ensure that young people with mental health problems are given the opportunity to participate in decisions about their care.

The Department of Health (1999) has also set out a number of key challenges for the care of young people with mental health problems. These include: to ensure that young people with mental health problems receive the best possible care; to ensure that young people with mental health problems are treated as individuals; and to ensure that young people with mental health problems are given the opportunity to participate in decisions about their care.
